Day 17- (6/28)

Breakfast

Fly Home- In the afternoon the flight to San Francisco will return home first. Then later in the evening the JFK flight will leave. so Those flying to JFK will get another half day to shop or see the sites of their choice.

*Free Time and Flexible Time

Time indicated on the itinerary as free time is meant to be flexible time to either arrange additional activities together, or on your own. In our experience this allows individuals to get more of what they like. It does not mean you must be on your own. You may choose to go alone or with a small group of others in side activities that we may help you to arrange. During each day we will discuss possible activities that we may do during free time that are not on the itinerary, examples include shopping sites, cultural sights, night markets, short cruises, entertainment shows ... etc. Important to note: these optional activities and meals cost is not reflected in the tour price and you will need money to pay for these activities if you choose to do them.
